CHARACTERS:

Grandpa – The originator of the idea behind the story of the “carrot survivor.” His plan is to share a unique story to his grandson that will be different from any other stories. He succeeded in achieving it at the end of this story.

Junior – The young brilliant boy that is so much in love with stories. He knows that there is no other perfect place to visit during the vacation period than grandpa's house because grandpa will always entertain him lots of great untold unique stories.

Carrot (Cooper) – The smartest and most confident out of the three vegetables. He saves the entire Vegetable Island under the secret attack of the Soldier Ants with so much fighting courage. Carrot remains the mastermind behind their successful journey till when Cabbage and Cucumber gave up the fight and fall into the midst of those pests. He was the only vegetable that survived the hazardous journey to get up to the earth.

Cabbage (Cabby) – The weakest and most fearful out of the three vegetables. He always opposes good plans that will save them from the attack of the pests. His nonchalant attitude exposed them to several pests attack. He was the reason why they were thrown out of the vegetable Island.

Cucumber (Coco) – He always finds whatever cabbage said irritating because he knows that every of his plans will always led them into their enemies' trap.

Queen of Ant – Head of ant colony. She is the one who ordered the Ant soldiers to take the three vegetables away and prepare them for their dinner.

SUMMARY

My name is Onwukwe Abraham Ogonna, I am a librarian who believes in creating something naturally unique and original. My passion for scriptwriting started as a result of the love I have for the world of imagination and creativity.

I am pitching on an animation movie titled “Carrot Survivor.” The movie opens with an impending doom right from the start when the vegetables traveled in a food truck to be delivered to the Grandpa’s house.

It has become a tradition that Junior pays grandpa a visit because of a story, but this time Grandpa has a different story entirely to share with him.

The next day, Grandpa took Junior to the garden and brought out the three vegetables (Carrot, Cabbage and Cucumber), then he said to him: Now we’ll wait and see how the “three transplant vegetables that about to embark on a hazardous plant’s life cycle must overcome the terror of pests and diseases before any of them will survive to grow healthy.” He plants the vegetables in the ground.

The story begins as they fall into a gigantic tunnel and get captured by ANTS. The ANT QUEEN judged them according to the ant’s law and found them guilty. While the ANT CHEF about to prepare them as dinner for all the ants to eat, a SMALL ANT distracted the Chef and shut him outside the kitchen, then helps the vegetables to escape through the secret waterway.

Later, they found themselves inside the forest and hid inside the pit as soon as the SOLDIER ANTS invaded the forest and searched everywhere for them, but didn’t see them. Just as soon as they left. Cabbage rushed out from the pit and was very upset with Carrot and Cucumber who were holding him back inside a smelling pit.

Moving further into the forest, they got attacked by an APHID and escaped, but this time around, they were left weak and hungry. At the verge of losing hope, then discovered a VEGETABLE ISLAND (a Utopian dream). They met a SAD, DRUNKEN WATERMELON who took them to a vegetable banquet. That the same night, the Soldier Ants invaded the island when the vegetables had fallen asleep drunk. At that moment only Carrot awake saw them as they were coming through the water walkway. He tries to alert the other vegetables about the danger at stake, but they’re already fallen deep asleep. He strategies quickly and fight off the Soldier ants until other vegetables wake up and join him to secure victory over the ants.

Carrot, Cabbage and Cucumber were later thrown out of the island after the VEGETABLE GUARDS discovered the sugar that led the Soldier Ants into the island inside Cabbage’s cloth.

They journey through the forest, dusty area and finally found a pathway inside a cave that will lead them to earth’s surface. The CATERPILLARS and CUTWORMS came out of the holes and attacked them, but only CARROT survived it and climbed up until he got grandpa’s garden. The Carrot grows big and fresh.
