🎓 Education

English Major, University of Washington, Seattle

1995 — June 1998

I made the honor roll several times. I took UW HUB classes in screenwriting, 6 total, and then went on to write award winning scripts. I studied poetry, multicultural leadership, art history, sculpture and photography, both color and black and white. I studied graphic design and fashion design, but decided not to pursue a degree in either. I love all aspects of entertainment, having studied dance and singing for myself. I've had a couple acting roles and did a little modeling, so very much understand the needs of actors, models and performers. My husband is a professional guitar player, so I've experienced traveling and preparing for events on the road, including props and wardrobe. My husband is Italian, so we love to discuss wine, cooking and food in general. I studied Metaphysics and practice a holistic lifestyle. I love animals and love to learn about quality animal products and services. Having been a homeowner and have moved about 18 times within the greater Seattle area, I love architecture and interior design. I love great cars,
