

Anastasia Washington

COMEDIAN
ACTRESS
WRITER
FILMMAKER

MEET ANASTASIA

Anastasia Washington is an Award Winning Actress, Comedian, Podcaster, Writer, Director, Singer, Curvy Model, Comic Con Panelist and Dance Hall Queen. As an LA native, she started acting and singing in the industry at the age of 3 and has since done everything under the show biz sun. She's seen the industry at its best and worst and now as an adult is the change she wishes to see in the world.

You can find Anastasia making bold content like her award winning shorts, "What are you?" that focuses on the dreaded question every mixed person is asked, and "He Said, She Said" which tackled sexual assault. During the pandemic alone she produced, wrote and starred in her One Woman Show that Played at the Black Voices Festival and Solo Fest, " 50 Shades of Mixed: Confessions of your Ethnically Ambiguous Best Friend" and much more.

Featured in Comedy Festivals including Electric Comedy Festival, Laugh after Dark Showcase, Future is Female Electric Comedy Festival Best of Fest, Burbank Comedy Festival, Broad Humor Festival, Albuquerque Funny Fiesta, Jest another Comedy Festival, and Black Woman in Comedy as well as Called Out by Elizabeth Bank's Who Haha. She has been a finalist in Black Boy Writes & Black Girl Writes Mentorship Initiative and in the Greenlights Initiative!

Her content takes on subjects like Police Brutality, Eating Disorders, Color-ism, and more while infusing humor and love to truly start those hard conversations from a more receptive place. She strives to take those difficult topics and make the big changes needed through creative expressions. Just take the time she went to a Neo Nazi Birthday Party and was denied cake, flash forward to Cake Wednesday (the weekly Holiday she made up) to re-narrate a trauma and celebrate life's small and big wins every week.

What's next for Anastasia?

She will continue to produce her podcasts about Pop Culture from a BIPOC point of view, Pop Culture, Food, and True Crime. Be at that Stand up grind while writing a Self Help book for those with a sense of humor and getting her Comedy Special and Album up and out to the masses. She has written a few pilots focusing on family dynamics and growing up in the industry, and naturally also werewolves. She is also working on feature films that discuss color-ism, discrimination and true crime, all through horror and comedy. I'd tell you who she's like, but, as Rocket Raccoon says, "Ain't no thing like me, except me."

Anastasia has the privilege to be a member of SAG/AFTRA, AWD, WIF, and WOC Unite.

AWARDS

An Roadmaps Greenlights Challenge 2022
Black Boy Writes & Black Girl Writes Mentorship Initiative! Second Round 2022, 2023
AWD BDAI Mentee
Outstanding Short Documentary Mischeaux Film Festival 2021
Official Selection Social Justice Now Film Festival 2020
Film of the Month Moving Parts Festival 2019
Official Selection Moving Parts Festival 2019
Official Selection Lady Filmmakers Festival 2018
Official Selection Moving Parts Festival 2018
Script 2 Screen Winner
At and t Create a thon Selection 2018
Black Magic Collective Acting Fellow

SOCIAL MEDIA

