

Wendy is an award winning Actress, Writer, Director and Producer. Her feature film Death on The Border, inspired by true events from when she was a young cop gained distribution and premiered at the prestigious Beverly Hills Film Festival at the TCL Mann's Chinese Theater, where they host the Academy Awards. Death on the Border recently had a theatrical release throughout the USA and is now available on Apple Tv, Amazon, Youtube, Vudu and Directv.

Wendy's early adult years as a policewoman garnered her a variety of life experience on the streets, including undercover work, dealing with a wide range of humanity from major criminals to domestic violence and yes she carried a Smith & Wesson '38.

Later a successful real estate career in her native city Melbourne, Australia. Also instilled in her a strong work ethic, tenacity, and life skills which led her to flourish in the business arena. While having continued success in the business world, Wendy followed her creative endeavors to fruition, moving to Los Angeles, not knowing anyone and began her journey as a talented actress and producer. Wendy has always sought out the best in their field for training and collaboration, including to name a few, Peter Sardi - Melbourne, The Royal Academy of Dramatic Art - London, Intensive Shakespeare, Uta Hagen/Austin Pendleton - New York, Ivana Chubbuck , Bobby Chance , Daisy White, Katt Shea - Los Angeles. Wendy had the honor of performing alongside Academy Award nominees, Kristin Scott Thomas , Ralph Fiennes and produced theater with Broadway credited directors.

Wendy's first film, "Big Bully Bank" which she wrote, produced and starred in, smashed the festival circuit, picking up several awards including "Best Comedy Scene" - AOF International Film Festival. Best Cinematography - AIF Festival and was invited to screen at The Occupy Sundance Film Festival.

Wendy has won or been nominated for several awards as an actress, film maker and writer and has just completed Directing her debut feature film, Alone Today (Death On the Border). She also wrote the award winning screenplay inspired by true events from when she was a young cop. Wendy is determined to encourage women on their own journey of self discovery and is particularly passionate about uplifting and empowering women through her craft and experience. Wendy brings people together from different cultures and backgrounds to make projects a success.

Wendy has a number of projects in development and recently released her memoir, "Sex, Love & Cops", which is available on Amazon and select book stores, recently gaining No1 top of the charts in Kindle crime auto biography best sellers. She plans to develop it into a series. Wendy resides in Hollywood, California, is a member of Australians in Film, Women in Film, Women in Media, SAG/AFTRA, Actors Equity.