Summary

A reliable, passionate individual who has performed in a range of film, television, Theatre and Radio programs, comprising of lead, featured and background roles. I like to take on complex roles and roles that I feel I can't master. With extensive preparation and research, I bring to life the character and execute it with dedication and precision.

Acting is my passion, failure is not an option, therefore I am willing to take part in as many screen/film projects in order to gain the invaluable experience to reach my goal to become a professional actor.
